FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

AMERICAN AIRLINES TO INCREASE FLIGHTS AT APPLETON INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT

APPLETON, Wis., Feb. 12, 2018 - American Airlines will increase service from Appleton International Airport to Chicago O'Hare International Airport with a third daily flight starting May 4, 2018.

American Airlines is also increasing the aircraft size for two of the daily flights to CRJ-700 regional jets, which seat 70 people.

"We're thrilled to see American increasing service to our community with more flights and larger aircraft," said Abe Weber, airport director. "Community response has been extremely strong, and our frequent flyers are excited to see larger planes with first-class seating. When you fly frequently for work, anything that can make the regular commute more comfortable is important."

The American Airlines flights from Appleton International Airport to Chicago O'Hare International Airport will follow this schedule beginning in May:

- Depart 5:12 a.m. on CRJ-700 regional jet
- Depart 11:24 a.m. on CRJ-700 regional jet
- Depart 6:05 p.m. on Embraer 145 regional jet

American Airlines began service to Appleton International Airport in July 2017 for the first time in the airport's history.

Travelers can book their American Airlines flights at AA.com.
